

Posted by Tom Markowski (The Detroit News) on Fri, Oct 1, 2010 at 6:23 PM

A look back at Brother Rice

On Saturday WDIV will televise an hour-long special about Birmingham Brother Rice commemorating its 50-year rivalry with Detroit Catholic Central, centering on the two football teams. The show will be re-broadcast statewide by Comcast.

Lorne Plant, the host of the high sports show STATE CHAMPS!, will host the show, which will feature highlights and interviews with Brother Rice coach Al Fracassa, Catholic Central coach Tom Mach and others.

The show kicks off a week of celebration at Brother Rice and will culminate with the Brother Rice/C.C. game Oct. 10 at Wayne State University at 2 p.m.

Brother Rice and C.C. have played some of the more memorable games in the past five decades and with this year's game being played at a college campus it will add to the great history between the two schools.